

Built on the site of an old glassworks and opened in 2002, the Hôtel du Castellet is an architectural blend of medina, hacienda, Italian palace and Provençal country house.

In total calm and tranquility, our guests enjoy the luxury of elegant surroundings and top quality facilities and service. As you turn into the drive, you know you are in Provence. Soon the warm colors of the main building can be glimpsed through the pines and the neatly trimmed box trees.

You are immediately struck by the calm and tranquility of the cloister leading to the hotel, then by the elegance that imbues the whole place, spilling out onto the terraces where, for the first time, you see the view ... quite superb.
