

With black sails billowing in the wind, Silolona harkens back to the golden age of travel when traditional hand- crafted wooden schooners criss-crossed South East Asia laden with spices and the precious cargos of the East.

Conceptualized as a luxury sailing ship especially for travelers, the Silolona was designed to be classic in line and style, and to reflect the stringent demands dictated by Lloyd's Register for wooden vessels, ensuring the highest levels of safety, stability and performance. Combined with an intimate knowledge of the cultures and region from the emerging Stone Age tribes of Papua to the dragons of Komodo, Silolona Soujourns provide a rare and truly unique experience.

Guests on the Silolona will savour an authentic taste of sailing amongst the islands of South East Asia , at home onboard a traditional Phinisi schooner manned by a professional crew of 17, embraced by true Asian hospitality and a generous measure of luxury and uncompromising safety.
